(5 points) 1. Send me an email from your entire team (with each of them cc'd) describing your project.

(5 points) 2. Describe what you hope to have completed by Monday.

(5 points) 3. Describe what you think will be the most difficult part of the project.

(5 points) 4. Describe how you're going to divide your 15 min presentation so that everyone gets a chance to talk.

(5 points) 4. Choose how the 110 points should be divided when grading your project (40 will be reserved for the presentation, you don't need to divide those.)

        Example:
           We think that our website should be worth 25, the game that we put on the site should be worth 25, participation should be worth 25 and the write-up should be worth 35.

        You can go into more detail, breaking the points up even further, but please don't give any less.

* Be aware, the presentations will be graded as follows.

    (15 pts) Does the presentation demo the project?
    (10 pts) Does the presentation include additional visuals, including but not limited to chunks of code?
    (10 pts) Did the group explain how they came up with/accomplished this specific idea?
    (5 pts) Did everybody participate in the presentation?
