Computer Ethics
Spring 2013
Discussion for Lecture #10
Wrapping up the course: Hot Topics in Computer Ethics

DUE on Thursday June 6, 2:00 p.m. (beginning of class)

This assignment is not graded, but it will be noted whether you do it or not.

It will be handed in.

The purpose of this final discussion is for you to propose your own ethical issues.

Part 1 THE TOPIC: The newspapers and blogs are full of articles related to computer technology and ethical issues. Pick one of those items and write a brief sentence or two that describes what it is. Include a link to the original article.

Part 2 THE QUESTION: Propose an ethical question based on Part 1. This will form the basis for a possible class discussion. Try to pick something that is controversial.

I'll choose some of these for us to discuss for our last meeting.
