Dataflow and Functional Languages related publications of Arvind and his collaborators

This is far from a comprehensive bibliography of Dataflow work, it does not even include the work of Jack Dennis and other important players. However, by consulting the papers listed below and following the bibliographic references in them, one should be able to build a pretty comprehensive bibliography.

Books

- Nikhil, R.S. and Arvind, Programming in Id: A Parallel Programming Language; draft December 1993. (abandoned)